Nurse's
Notes

Do you know what healthcare treatments you would and would not want if you could not speak for yourself? Do other people know what your wishes are?

April 16th is National Healthcare Decision Day

Advance Care Planning involves learning about treatment options, thinking about your values, talking about your decisions and documenting your wishes. There are many reasons to plan ahead. Some examples are if you are unable to speak for yourself, sudden illness or accidents, to leave a guide for others or peace of mind for loved ones.

To get started; learn about life-sustaining treatments, reflect upon your values, decide what you want and do not want and talk to others. Questions that need to be discussed are "What do you want and not want at the end of life?", "Who should speak for you?", "What are your concerns?", "What gives your life the most meaning?" and "What one thing do you want to be sure your doctors, family and friends know about your wishes?"

Talking about your decisions is a valuable opportunity to reflect on what's important with loved ones, to discuss what needs to happen before a crisis, that can provide comfort to your loved ones and is up to YOU to initiate. Advance directives document healthcare decisions at the end of life. This is an excellent tool to help you think through and communicate your choices. There are two legal forms available on the internet: a Healthcare Power of Attorney and a Living Will.

The Healthcare Power of Attorney documents who makes medical decisions about your healthcare and authorizes them to speak for you ONLY if you can't. Your healthcare agent can be anyone over the age of 18, a family member, loved one or close friend. This person needs to be someone you can trust, knows you well, will advocate in your behalf and will honor your wishes. The Living Will states what you want and do not want for medical treatments at the end of life.

It is important to know that your advance directive should reflect your wishes, lawyers are not needed, not all documents are legally valid in every state, a witness and a notary may be required and these documents do not expire and can be updated as needed.

April 16th, National Healthcare Decisions Day, is a collaborative effort of national, state and community organizations. It offers opportunity to communicate and document future healthcare decisions. Participating national organizations include: ABA, AMA, ANA, APC, NASW, NHPCO and others.

You can complete your advance directive, talk to your loved ones and encourage others to do the same. Resources that can help with this are advance care planning information, advance directive documents and www.nationalhealthcaredecisionsday.org.

The future depends on what we do in the present. - Mahatma Gandhi

Easter Egg Hunt

Palm Sunday, April 17, 2011

All kids ages 0-5th grade, come join us on the south lawn of the church for the hunt directly following Palm Sunday Service.

*We are in need of wrapped candy for the hunt, please bring it to the church office.
Thank You!*

As most of you are aware our District Superintendent, Rev. Secundino Morales, will be retiring at Annual Conference and returning with Vicky to Panama. In gratitude for his service, we are asking each church to collect a love offering which will be used to help pay a part of the Morales' moving expenses. Additionally we request cards and letters of thanks and celebration from Pastors, lay leaders, SPPRC's, VIM Panama participants and church members at large.

Our gifts will be presented during the Celebration of Ministry for Secundino and Vicky on April 17, at 3pm at Kearney First UMC. Please make checks out to the Conference Treasurer and bring in a separate envelope to the celebration.

The event organizers would like to display pictures from the VIM trips over the last 15 years as well as other events in which the Morales' participated. We would appreciate having these at the Gateway District Office no later than April 5.

If you have any questions please contact the Gateway District Office at (308) 234-3098 or gateway@umcneb.org.

Blessings,

Rev. Valera Heydenberk and Rev. Cathy Cole

A Giving Story...

As is the case with many families, there are times each year when Jim and Sharon focus their attention on gift giving. For years, they have created a gift list that include family members, friends and loved ones. Last year Jim and Sharon made an addition to their list and began including their church in their giving plan.

Sharon: Years ago, I inherited stock from my grandmother. We held the stock for several years, but decided to sell a portion of it this year. The stock had gone way up in value and our CPA informed us that we had a capital gain of nearly $120,000. we had always planned on making a charitable gift and the CPA reminded us that if we were to make a gift of this stock before the end of the calendar year, we would receive a charitable deduction on the gifted shares. This deduction will help offset the capital gain tax on the stock we sold.

Jim: We contacted our financial advisor to discuss the best way to make a gift. He noted some of the most common gifts - a gift by check or by transfer of bonds or real estate, to name a few. However, he also mentioned that it might be especially beneficial for us to think about giving some of our remaining appreciated stock.

Sharon: We were still holding $80,000 in the same highly appreciated stock, and did not intend to sell, primarily because of the substantial capital gains tax we already faced. To sell any more would only increase our tax. The gift planner recommended that we consider an end-of-year gift that would help lower our taxes. He called this a Gift and Sale Plan. It meant that part of our stock would be sold and the proceeds would come to us, and part would be gifted to the charity.

Jim: That is what we decided to do. By giving the $80,000 in stock, we received two benefits. First, we avoided a large capital gains tax on that stock. And then, we received a charitable deduction. The deduction even offset the capital gains for our prior stock sale of $120,000. we are very pleased with the double benefits of our gift. And, we're delighted that we've been able to make a nice charitable contribution.

CAPITAL FUND: UPDATES

The Capital Fund Committee is pleased to report that we have made a good start in raising money for the Fund which a member of the church has pledged to match, dollar for dollar.

On Sunday, February 27, we received seven checks totaling $12,471. Two checks were for $1000 and one was for $10,000.

Contributions received prior to February 27 add up to $2472. thus at this point we have raised $14,943. This means we are $35,000 from our goal of $50,000.

(March 13, 2011)

Since the last update there has been an additional $2016 given to the Capital Fund bringing the total to $16,959.

Faith Garden Grows

Several have already signed up for Garden plots in our community garden space. Currently we are in need of a few items that will help our garden be even better than last years. If you have any gardening items hanging around that can be donated, we appreciate your generosity! Especially we need: hoes, garden shovels or spades, wooden stakes for markers, gate materials to add gates to our two entrances, hoses of any kind, a couple of pitchforks would be handy for our new compost area, mulch for the paths between plots, tomato cages or large tin coffee cans. Happy Spring!

Update

The tile flooring has just been completed in all the stairways and on the second floor by the balcony and Sunday School rooms. The new floors and stairs will be cleaned and waxed in the next few weeks to complete the project. Thank you everyone for bringing this part of our renovations to a reality.

Mike Duester put up the rest of the tile on the kitchen wall around the coffee maker this last month. Thank you, Mike, for finishing the tile work for us.

Home Lawn & Garden Show

Our Home, Lawn & Garden Show was a success once again. We had 43 pies brought out to the fairgrounds and we sold them all. This year we added baked potatoes to our menu which was a big hit - especially "baked potato with the works" (onion, cheese, chili, sour cream, bacon bits and butter).

Our two day fundraiser gave us a $1580.18 profit and our committee wants to thank everyone who helped with food donations, seed money and/or helped work the concession stand. We really appreciate your support.
